

What?

I am making a racing game that can be played online or offline because of the amount of racing games that are not new anymore and doesn't have a lot of good experiences.

Who?

Im making the game for the public because i want people to have a potential good racing experience from release to possibly next release of the game.

Why?

Because there is not a lot racing games out anymore and people that want a one will get a good racing game.